Summary of the Research Activities

I have been in the university from morning until late in the evening everyday. I learned various things in that. I took a lecture on soundscape. Since my research focused solely on sight and smell, I wanted to include hearing as a future task. So the content of the lecture was very inspiring for my research. I planned and designed the coastline with students studying the same specialty. There were students from various countries. I had the opportunity to exchange opinions with them, and at that time I got advice on research and had a good experience.

College Life, Friends and Others

Pisa University is one of the oldest universities in Italy. There are many world heritages around the university, including the Leaning Tower of Pisa.
