Summary of the Research Activities

My Research activities during the program mainly consist of the Summer School at National Taiwan University of Science and Technology (NTUST) and the internship at CMC Intellectual Property Firm.

Summer School @ NTUST: NTUST boasts about its leadership as a technology-focused university in Taiwan. The summer school provided me both on-campus lectures on sciences and technologies, as well as field trips and site visits to some representative innovation-motivated corporations in Taiwan. I benefited from learning about new technologies from the researchers at the front line and having face-to-face communications with them. It was not so easy to understand some new sciences and knowledge in a language other than my mother tongue but I felt encouraged after I made my try. The field trips allowed me to experience the actual manufacturing lines and the continuous efforts that are being paid to make modern manufacturing even smarter. It was a valuable experience which would not be available in school.

Internship @ CMC IP Firm: CMC is a Taiwanese firm that provides professional services in Intellectual Property. The internship provided me with opportunities to communicate with Taiwanese patent attorneys, and former judge who has ruled cases involving IP issues. I heard comments and opinions regarding IP systems in Taiwan from those experienced professionals, who are in possession of both comprehensive knowledge and practical experience of the topic. To address to my research for this program, I researched on the issue of digital content protection in Taiwan on a case-study. This study strengthened my understanding of misconducts such as unlawful accesses, the possible remedies and also the limitations of laws and rules. I was able to refer to these understandings during my master degree research, in which proper means of protection are discussed in consideration of misconducts of obtaining and using big data without necessary permission.

Lovely Taipei

Memories of local food at the night market, the night view of the landmark Taipei 101, or even the typhoon days that destroyed my umbrella, have been woven together representing the lovely city in my heart. Above all, the city is lovely to me because of the Taiwanese students who have spent the two weeks together with us. From them I saw the reasons of vitality and free spirits underlying this city.
